GEORGIA ACADEMY OF FAMILY PHYSICIANS AWARDS JENNIFER MALCOM, DO

Jennifer Malcolm, DO, of Granger, Indiana, received the Georgia Academy of Family Physicians (GAFF) Resident of the Year Award on November 12th. The Family Medicine Resident of the Year award is presented to a resident member that is a leader in academic, community, and professional affairs, along with making an outstanding contribution to the profession or community.

Dr. Malcolm completed her residency at Georgia Health Sciences University in Augusta. Dr. Malcolm was recognized as an extraordinary resident with a commitment to family medicine, community and volunteerism. As a family physician resident she excelled in her leadership as well as clinical abilities. Her interest in being an active member of policy making and curriculum was apparent in her active role on the Residency Curriculum and Quality Assurance Committees. She was active in the Admission and Recruitment Committee by participating in residency recruitment fairs, interviews, dinners and lunches.

Dr. Malcolm was an active member of the Patient Centered Medical Home, Electronic Medical Record Task Force and Pediatric Standard of Care Improvement Grant Committees with Georgia Health Science. Additionally her honors include being elected chief resident by her peers.

Dr. Malcolm was among a group of five individuals honored by GAFF at their Annual Scientific Assembly and Exhibition meeting.
