CALL FOR POSTERS

SUBMISSION DEADLINE SEPTEMBER 6, 2019 (NO EXCEPTIONS)

The Georgia Academy of Family Physicians is seeking submissions for the Annual Research Poster Presentation to be held Friday, November 15, 2019, during the GAFP's Annual Scientific Assembly.

Criteria/Who Can Participate:

Submissions from Pathway to Medical School Pre-med students, and GAFP members who are medical students, residents and practicing physicians/fellows are welcome.

Posters presented may be research results, case reports, summer projects, or educational projects. Posters may address any topic relevant to family medicine. Submissions must be of original work not yet published or presented at regional or national meetings and completed. Concurrent (2019) submissions to other conferences such as the North American Primary Care Research Group (NAPCRG) and Society of Teachers of Family Medicine (STFM) are encouraged. Medical student projects previously presented at medical schools or on student "Research Days" are accepted.

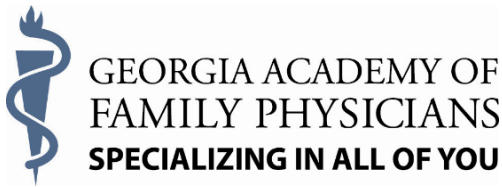

During the submission review and acceptance process, several authors will be selected to participate in the research poster presentation on Friday, November 15. In addition to displaying their posters electronically, the top submissions from each category (Pre-med students, medical students, residents and practicing physicians/fellows) will be chosen to do a small presentation on the abstract mainstage during the meeting. Each presenter is given approximately five minutes to explain their posters followed by a ten-minute period for questions and answers as a group. The GAFP will also display the electronic posters during the annual meeting.

How to Submit Your Poster:

Complete Application Form One application form should be completed for each abstract and poster submission. Please indicate on the entry form the primary presenter (the on-site person) and please indicate if an advisor or coordinator was involved in the completion of the research poster, and the extent of their participation.

Abstract One copy of the abstract should be submitted with an electronic copy of your poster. The abstract should be no longer than 250 words.

Submit to GAFP Submit application form, abstract, and electronic copy of your poster to Felicia Kenan, at fkenan@gafp.org by September 7, 2019.

Poster Acceptance Notification:

Competition finalists will be notified via email no later than Monday, October 14th.

All finalist will be notified by email if their abstract has been accepted for electronic poster presentation. Finalists who are selected for oral presentation will be notified by Monday, October 21 and are given a 72 hour time window to respond. Please make sure the presenter's email address is current to ensure that all important communication is received. After receiving their email notifications, participants are required to follow GAFP official e-poster formatting guidelines and submit their electronic poster upon completion by no later than November 7, 2019. ALL posters will be electronically displayed during the annual meeting.

1. During the Competition:

All abstracts will be reviewed and judged by a minimum of three judges.

Review will focus on the following:

- Significance of findings for practicing family physicians.
- Quality of presentation of findings.
- Quality of methods used to generate findings.

In instances in which the above criteria do not apply, reviewers will seek to evaluate the extent to which the submitted presentation will be of interest to family physicians.

Posters will be electronically displayed at the time of presentation at the Annual Meeting on Friday, November 15 from 9:30am – 12:30pm. You will have limited time (approximately 5-7 minutes) to present poster to visiting audience. Please make your few minutes count by being concise, thorough, and knowledgeable of the presented research.

Please note that you must be present during the scheduled time for your category to defend your research.

9:30am – 11:00am – Pre-Med Students and Medical Students Judging 11:00am – 12:30pm – Residents and Practicing Physicians/Fellows Judging

One award will be given for the best presentation in the following categories:

- Pre-med Students (one $500 award)
- Medical Students (one $500 award)
- Residents (one $500 award)
- Practicing Physician/Fellow (1 recognition award)

Please note, if there are multiple presenters for a winning poster they will share the award equally.

A listing of all winning posters will be published in a GAFP publication following the November meeting.
